Byrn Smith, Living West of Beloit, Was Asleep on Seat of Wagon Saturday Night.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

He was in the city during the afternoon and when he started for home was under the influence of liquor. On the way he fell asleep and was noticed in this condition while near the city limits. A phone message to the police caused them to overtake him and he was allowed to "thaw out" in the city lock-up.

RACING SEASON AT HOT SPRINGS OPENS

Famous Horsemen Have Promising Colts in Stables and Successful Meet is Anticipated.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Hot Springs, Ark., Feb. 4.—"They're off" today at Oaklawn and unless all signs go astray the meeting will be the most successful that has ever taken place here. For weeks past the strings of fast horses have been arriving at the track, the number so far surpassing expectation that it was found necessary to provide additional stalls. Many unnamed youngsters are in the stables and several prominent horsemen have a number of colts with which they hope to surprise the turf world ere many weeks have passed. Other better known horses are here in considerable number to get into condition for the Crescent City Derby and other big events to be run on the Southern tracks this spring. Among the well known stables represented are those of Barney Schreiber, C. C. Christy of Kansas City, W. W. Bissell of Pittsburg, P. T. Chinn, Louise Cella and F. A. Forsythe.

MANY STATES AT GOVERNOR HOCH'S OIL CONFERENCE

Kansas Governor Believes Standard Company Can Be Broken by Drastic Legislation.
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Topeka, Kas., Feb. 4.—The ears of the Standard Oil octopus will be made to tingle tomorrow when the governors of half a dozen or more states gather in this city and exchange opinions on the big corporation and its methods of doing business. Governor Hoch, who issued the call for the conference, expects representatives to be on hand from Colorado, Illinois, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Indiana, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, Iowa, Oklahoma and the Dakotas. Governor Hoch believes that if all the states should act as vigorously as has the state of Kansas it would mean the finish of the Standard Oil company. The governors of the neighboring commonwealths who attend the conference will be told how Kansas has fought the trust with drastic legislation and they will be urged to go home and recommend the same methods to their respective legislatures. Governor Hoch will refer to legislation which makes pipe-lines common carriers and provides maximum rates for the shipment of refined oil, etc. Back of this movement are a dozen independent refineries in Kansas who are clamoring for a law that will enable them to use the Standard's pipe-lines for the transportation of their oil. They assert that the "right of eminent domain" over the pipe-lines which are to be designated "common carriers" will give them this privilege.

THAW CASE OPENED TODAY; STORY OF SHOOTING TOLD; INSANITY PLEA ADVANCED

"Well, Dearie, I Have Probably Saved Your Life," Is What The Prisoner Is Reported To Have Said To His Wife After The Tragedy.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
New York Feb. 4.—The famous Thaw trial is on. Shortly after the court opened today, Assistant District Attorney Garvan presented the case for the prosecution. He spoke ten minutes. All the witnesses excepting experts were excluded from the court room.
May McKenzie, Mrs. Harry Thaw and Mrs. William Thaw were included in this order.
Garvan briefly outlined the movements of Stanford White, beginning with the murder victim the Saturday preceding the tragedy and ending with the actual scene of the shooting at the Madison Square roof garden, claiming that Thaw "shot and killed White with premeditation and intent to kill."
Lawrence White, a son of the late Stanford White, was the first witness. His testimony was brief and of minor importance.
Warner Paxton Candien, an engineer, testified that he accompanied Thaw down the elevator immediately after the tragedy; that Thaw admitted the shooting, saying "He ruined my wife."
A woman whom the witness thought was Thaw's wife, replied to this: "But look at the fix you are in now!"
Thaw replied: "Well, dearie, I have probably saved your life."
Meyer Cohen, a song writer, who was another eye-witness to the tragedy, told of and illustrated to the jury the deliberate manner in which Thaw approached White. He said Thaw came up to White from behind, suddenly faced him, and fired three shots.
After witnesses had identified the pistol and bullets with which White was killed and White's wounds had been described by the coroner's physician, the recess being taken until two o'clock this afternoon, when Attorney Gleason opened for the defense.
Gleason said that Thaw was suffering with insanity, hereditary in nature, when he shot White; that the defense would be insanity. He declared Thaw believed he was acting upon the word of Providence and acted without malice, not knowing the nature or quality of his act.
Gleason further asserted that Evelyn Nesbitt Thaw, when first asked by Thaw to be his wife, refused because of "an experience in her life connected with White."
When Gleason had concluded his opening remarks the court adjourned until tomorrow.

TWO MORE CHAPTERS IN AMERICA'S DREYFUS CASE

Senate Committee On Military Affairs Opens Investigation Of Brownsville Raid-- Court Martial Is Begun.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Washington, D. C., Feb. 4.—The "Affaire de Brownsville" promises to occupy as much space in American history as does the famous Dreyfus case in the history of the French republic. The one certainly bids fair to be as long drawn out as the other. The senate having tired somewhat of the controversy has shifted it over to the committee on military affairs, which today began the taking of testimony concerning the famous affray of the negro soldiers. The full committee is sitting in the case and commissioned and non-commissioned officers of the discharged negro battalion, with others who are supposed to be acquainted with the facts, have been summoned before the committee to tell all they know about the case.
It is hoped that the inquiry will be conducted harmoniously and without the bitter controversy which develops during the consideration of the resolution in the senate. Some doubt is expressed on this point, however, as it is known that the members of the committee are aligned on two sides in regard to the case. While no counsel representing any of the parties interested will be permitted to attend the hearing, it has been decided that the case shall be conducted along the lines of a regular trial. One of the members of the committee, probably Senator Foraker, will present the case on behalf of the enlisted men. Other members of the committee, of course, are to have the privilege of cross-examining the men. This procedure has been agreed upon in order to keep the examination within bounds.
Penrose Courtmartial.
San Antonio, Tex., Feb. 4.—A court-martial called by Brig. Gen. William C. McCaskey, commander of the department of Texas, for the investigation of the conduct of Major Charles W. Penrose and Captain Edgar A. Macklin, both of the Twenty-fifth Infantry, at Brownsville during the outbreak of the negro troops, convened today at Fort Sam Houston. The specific charges against the two officers are conduct prejudicial to good order and military discipline, based on their alleged neglect of duty in connection with the Brownsville affair.
The personnel of the court follows: Col. George Locroy Brown, president; Captain Charles E. May, judge advocate; Lieut. Col. L. M. Mans, Lieut. Col. James Crane, Lieut. Col. L. A. Sharp, Lieut. Col. E. J. McClellan, Lieut. Col. B. R. Stevens, Lieut. Col. Frank Baker, Major Charles Taylor, Major J. L. Clark, Major J. B. Bennett, Major Gardner, Major H. B. Snyder and Major H. S. Wallace.
The courtmartial proceedings will be of great interest, as they are expected to develop all the facts connected with the Brownsville raid and to settle beyond controversy whether colored troops took part in it. The trials will be conducted in accordance with the laws and the regulations, and all witnesses will be sworn and be subject to cross examination.

OLD FASHIONED
WINTER SET IN

JANUARY RECORD SHOWS AVER-AGE OF 22.69 DEGREES.

EARLY TEMPERATURES HIGH

Four Below Zero Lowest on Any One of the Thirty-one Days—
 High Average, 29.33.

Delayed and even despaired of by many people, winter, the good old-fashioned kind, has been used to tell about, set in here during the first of January. The temperatures for the thirty-one days cover a wide range, showing that the change in weather was nothing small. On the 15th the registered thermometer at Heimstreet's drugstore showed 47 as the high temperature and on the day following the mercury fell as low as
 3. This was a sudden drop but it tells the story of the commencement of winter. Hitherto we had but little cold weather and none at all that could have been called extreme. Following that date it has been very cold. Not until the last day of the month was the thawing point—22—reached; but even then it was not passed.

Temperature Averages
 The average of low temperatures for the month is 16.00; the average of high is 29.33 and the general average is 22.69. In contrast to those figures are the averages for December, 21.5, 35.7, and 28.6, being, respectively low, high and general.

Following is a table of conditions and temperatures for the month (The

A Reasonable Plea
For The Stomach

If Your Stomach is Lacking in Digestive Powers, Why Not Help
 The Stomach Do Its Work—
 Especially When It Costs
 Nothing To Try?

Not with drugs, but with a reinforcement of digestive agents, such as are naturally at work in the stomach.
 Scientific analysis shows that digestion requires pepsin, nitrogenous ferments, and the secretion of hydrochloric acid. When your food fails to digest, it is proof positive that some of these agents are lacking in your digestive apparatus.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contain nothing but these natural elements necessary to digestion and when placed at work in the weak stomach and small intestines, supply what these organs need. They stimulate the gastric glands and gradually bring the digestive organs back to their normal condition.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have been subjected to critical chemical tests at home and abroad and are found to contain nothing but natural digestive agents.

 I have analyzed most carefully a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets (which I bought myself at a city chemist's shop for the purpose), manufactured by the F. A. Stuart Co., Temple Chambers, London, E. C., and have to report that I cannot find any trace of vegetable or mineral po-sons. Knowing the ingredients of the tablets, I am of the opinion that they are admirably adapted for the purpose for which they are intended.

(Signed)
 John R. Brooke, F. I. C., F. C. S.

There is no secret in the preparation of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.
 Their composition is commonly known among physicians, as is shown by the recommendation of 40,000 licensed physicians in the United States and Canada. They are the most popular of all remedies for indigestion, dyspepsia, water brash, insomnia, loss of appetite, melancholia, constipation, dysentery and kindred diseases originating from improper dissolution and assimilation of foods, because they are thoroughly reliable and harmless to man or child.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are at once a safe and a powerful remedy, one grain of these tablets being strong enough (by test) to digest 3-000 grains of steak, eggs and other foods. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest your food for you when your stomach can't.

MARRIED IN DEPOT
SATURDAY EVENING

With But a Few Moments to Spare
 Happy Couple United in Marriage and Caught Train.

Married in the private office of D.
 J. Lindsay at the North-Western depot with but a few moments to spare and catch their train for home, Anna Johnson and Sigurd Hulsted of Bonus, Boone county, Illinois, began their married life Saturday evening after a most exciting and trying day. Miss Johnson and her prospective husband, Hulsted, arrived in Janesville Saturday morning from Belvidere, Illinois.
 Directed to the county clerk's office,
 they proceeded to ask for a license,
 only to be informed that Hulsted, a few months under twenty-one, would have to have his father's consent to the marriage before the necessary papers could be issued. Dismayed, Hul-sted hastened to communicate with his father and that gentleman arrived on the seven-thirty train in the evening. His consent was quickly given.
 County Clerk Lindsay communicated with Anna and Sigurd, and they were permitted to perform the ceremony. Mr. Lee obligingly secured a special permit from Judge Sale and arrived at the depot
 a few seconds later than the minister.
 Here is where Mr. Lindsay appeared as the good benefactor and escorting the party to his private office the nuptial knot was tied and the happy couple hustled aboard the Belvidere train just as the conductor called "All aboard" at eight-twenty. It was quick work and passengers about the depot waiting for trains gave the couple a send-off they will not forget.

JACOB COHEN WINS
IN JUSTICE COURT

Jury Took But Twenty Minutes to Assess Defendant's Costs and Twenty Dollars Damages.

Peace and quiet reign once more on Riverside street. Jacob Cohen and his neighbors, the Dwarikins, preserve an armed neutrality. Starting with a family row in which windows were broken, furniture destroyed and a general rough house indulged in last Thursday, Judge Reeder's court and a jury of six men have brought about a state of peace that the Peace conference of The Hague Tribunal would have shuddered at attempting.
 It took the jury twenty minutes to find for the plaintiff a sum for two hundred dollars damages and while they only assessed the damages at twenty dollars it was a balm for the wounded feelings of Cohen.

H. C. BOISSIER'S
SUNDAY SERMON

TEXT: "YE SUFFER FOOLS GLAD-LY, SEEING YE YOURSELVES ARE WISE."

TOPIC: WISDOM AND FOLLY

Said Experience Was Ever Greater Than Theory and Spoke Harshly of Fanaticism.

The Rev. H. C. Boissier, rector of Trinity church, spoke at the regular Sunday morning service yesterday on "Wisdom and Folly," taking for his text, Corinthians 2:11-13: "Ye suffer fools gladly, seeing ye yourselves are wise." These words were spoken by St. Paul when his Corinthian converts were wavering, when they had listened to false teachers. The apostle laid down a great principle in morals and religion for a wise man can put up with and is not disturbed by a fool;
 or in other words wisdom is the soul's truest and best defense against the mischief done by folly.

An "Easy-Going" Age

In the process of change in the language the words fool, foolish, folly and their kin have lost their harshness and strength and where the old believer was called a fool we term him a rank atheist. In the Bible the faithful are called wise, the infidels are called fools. And Christ said
 "whosoever shall say to his brother
 'Thou fool,' shall be in danger of hell fire." But we live in an "easy-going" age and we like to tone down the meaning of words and phrases and thus it happens that in the greatest concern with which we are actively engaged in this life—religion—that increasingly, as apparently in all other interests, we are surrounded and beset by that which is false in principle and false in method. We justify wickedness by giving it another name and condone error by making it fashionable.

Knowledge vs. Theory
 There is quackery in medicine, dishonest speculation in business, alteration in manufacture, fanaticism in unbelief and wrong beliefs in religion.
 Those who are "gulled" by imposters are the unsophisticated, the inexperienced, the foolish. The experience, the clear-headed, the sublime-minded, can and do laugh at the foolish theories. The wise can hear read of, talk of and smile at these theories for it is certainly and knowledge that give confidence. It is because of a lack of knowledge that the masses of the apparently faithful are seized with alarm when some new doctrine, some new "theology," some old error in new dress, appears in the spiritual realm. Had those people pursued their religious studies
 after they left the Sunday school when children, had they extended their religious education through life and cared for their spiritual being as they have cared for their physical, they would not be led away by the fair words, the "pretty nothings," the blandishments of the enemy of human souls appearing as an angel of light.

Uncontrolled "Learning"
 We lack in our knowledge of Christ and religion and we know still less about the work of the churches. Some and could be laughed out of their faith by another, no matter how foolish. Some can lead away by a louder cry, more entertaining preaching, an easier and softer gospel than the Christian, even in this day of vast and easy dissemination of knowledge. Has not our knowledge re-wild and got beyond our control because untempered with divine wisdom? Much of our present day knowledge has taught us much about nature, may have enabled us to apply her laws so as to benefit a wider circle of mankind, may have opened our eyes to some other deep mysteries, but has this growing knowledge kept us with our knowledge of Nature's God? The religious truth, the active, our breasts and lives and come to us by a mere accumulation of this world's wisdom; nor can we master
 it by a mere perfunctory attendance at church.

Experience vs. Argument
 And so we must take trouble and time to study and think and pray and receive instruction and strive to enter into the doctrines and teachings of the gospel as interpreted by the church. But if we are content to hang loosely on the skirts of religion assuming duties when convenient and choosing the sweets and none of the bitter, we shall never enter into the heart of the reality of Christian truth. "Wisdom is the stability of the soul; it comes from God, but works by the cooperation of man."

A Prominent Educator

Declares Vinol is the Best Cod
 Liver Preparation

There has been a good deal of discussion in Janesville, regarding the merits of cod liver oil preparations, and whether or not cod liver oil and emulsions that upset the stomach have any medicinal virtue; therefore, the following letter from M. A. Cassidy, superintendent of schools, Lexington, Ky., will be read with interest.

"I am pleased to state that after having used and tested the different cod liver preparations on the market,
 I find Vinol to be far superior to them all."

"Vinol built up my system, strengthened my nerves and made a new man of me, and I heartily endorse it as the most efficacious and agreeable cod liver oil preparation on the market."

A member of the Smith Drug Co., when asked his opinion in regard to Vinol, replied: "We have never sold anything in our store better than Vinol to create strength, cure stomach troubles, chronic coughs, colds, bronchitis and incipient consumption, or to make growing children robust and give strength and vigor to the aged."

"It is for this reason that we offer to return money in every case where it fails." Smith Drug Co.

NOTE—While we are sole agents for Vinol in Janesville, it is now for sale at the leading drug store in nearly every town and city in the country.
 Look for the Vinol agency in your town.

From long experience with this knowledge we gain a practical knowledge.
 We may not be able to meet an evenly-balanced scientific argument that would overthrow prayer but long and intimate acquaintance with prayer as real, living force enables us to bear testimony. Other instances could be cited for experience was ever greater than theory.

Reasonable Religion

Closing Mr. Boissier said: "While folly is forever foolish, while unbelief and fanaticism make demands such as the religion of Christ would never make, because it is a reasonable religion, let us not be disturbed in our minds. Being confident in the faith once delivered, being sure of the goal at which we are aiming, we can afford to let foolishness work out its foolish destiny; being sure of what we believe and why we believe and how to act upon our belief, nothing outside these will disturb or distress us for we shall be anchored to the unshakable Rock, Jesus Christ, Our Lord."

STATE REPUBLICAN
CAMPAIGN EXPENSES

$19,288 Was Disbursed by the Republican State Central Committee—
 Nearly All Subscribed.

According to Lieut. Governor W. D.
 Connor, chairman of the republican state central committee, the sum of $19,288 was expended to elect the state ticket last November. The committee has bills amounting to $2,500
 still outstanding, and subscriptions have been pledged for a large part of this amount. The Davidson-Connor campaign preceding the primaries cost $23,000. Connor himself contributed $17,000. The Lenroot campaign before the primaries cost about $13,000.
 Lenroot was the unsuccessful aspirant for the republican nomination for governor. Two years ago when La Follette was renominated and re-elected as governor the pre-convention campaign cost $44,000 and the pre-election campaign $37,000. The primary election law was not in effect then.

Before The Footlights.

Chamberlin's poster of the story, bearing a new-born baby in its back, used to announce "The Hair to the Hoof." It does not announce the coming of the Armstrong comedy to the British metropolis, but is utilized our, will give the famously delightful "Taming of the Shrew" at the Myers theatre tonight. "Nance Oldfield" is to be the curtain-raiser.

Viola Gillette Opera Co. The comic opera, "The Girl and the Bandit," which will delight the soul of the lover and the spirit of the tired will be seen here at the Myers theatre Wednesday, Feb. 6.

This is something quite out of the ordinary in the way of a comedy opera, so it is called. The book and lyrics were written by Mrs. Tyler, while the music is by Frederick Coltrane. The opera will be produced by the Viola Gillette Opera company, and the promise is made that the production will be both lavish in its scenic environment and appropriate in the way of costuming. No less than four love stories are woven into the plot, which is after all, not so serious that it cannot be followed, nor so light as to make it trivial. The opera was put on at the Studebaker theatre for a two weeks' run, the company opening there without any preliminary flourish of trumpets, and made an instantaneous hit, and when the first two weeks of the engagement were about concluded, the run was extended to two weeks more, and then from week to week until ten weeks' run was accomplished. Big business has been the rule for the simple reason that the opera appeals to every class of theatre-goers. The book is interesting; the story agreeable, and the music of that varied order that includes everything the theatre-goer likes to hear. Some of the music is worthy of grand opera. There are also a number of melodious and sympathetic ballads, with a fair sprinkling of ragtime songs, so that there is a ceaseless flow of pleasing variety.

Miss Viola Gillette, heard here last season, is the prima donna of the organization and has some of the best numbers in the opera to sing.

"The Runaway Tramp" The Dalmatian Comedy company opens a three nights' engagement here at the Myers theatre with "The Runaway Tramp" and guarantees it to be as good if not better than any play ever presented here by a repertory company. Thursday, Friday and Saturday. It is one of their strongest plays and one that will please the most fastidious. It is different from most comedy plays, as it is devoid of "horse play," as this company does not resort to this style of acting to please its patrons. Every member stands out on their ability as a performer and do not resort to the ridiculous to make their plays pleasing. In "The Runaway Tramp" every scene is thrilling and the climax of every act brings the curtain down with a howl, by clever acting and very funny situations.

Miss Mina Griffin and Billy Boston take the leading roles and their work has brought forth hundreds of press notices praising their work. All parts are strong and in the hands of actors that are adapted to the parts they are cast for.

This is a play that Mr. Dalmatian had last season as a one-act attraction in all the larger cities and this is the only repertory company securing the rights for it. The management guarantees it to please or your money refunded.

NEW BALL RULERS.

Four Well Known Players to Manage Big League Teams.

JENNINGS TO BOSS DETROIT.

Noted Infielder's Debut as Major League Dictator—Cantillon Goes to Washington—Chick Stahl Ousts Jimmy Collins in Boston.

There will be four debutants in the field next season as managers of major league baseball teams. Of these three come to big company properly-indorsed as managers of minor league teams. They are Hugh Jennings of Baltimore, who will handle the Detroit American club; Joe Cantillon of Milwaukee, slated to move the Washington American club up a peg or two, and Billy Murray of Jersey City, who is to land for Philadelphia the long looked for National league pennant.

The fourth of the bunch of new aspirants for managerial honors is Chick Stahl, who will follow Jimmy Collins as head of the Boston Americans.

Of the newcomers Jennings is considered to have the best chance to bring his team to the front. The addition of Claude Rossman to the Tigers' lineup gives Jennings a hard hitter, a gingery player of the type the new manager likes and a fair first baseman.

Joe Cantillon is a veteran who has been prominent as player, umpire and manager. He began playing ball in the Northwestern league in 1896. He was manager of the Columbus (O.) club in 1897 and then became an umpire on the National league staff, remaining until 1902, when he took charge of the Milwaukee club of the American association. Last year his team finished second after a bruising race with Columbus. As an umpire Cantillon was very strict. As a manager he became an umpire balter.

Billy Murray has been identified with baseball for nearly twenty-five years as player and manager. He handled the Providence (R. I.) club of the Eastern league with much success from 1895 to 1902, when he was signed to manage the Jersey City club. Murray's services have been in demand by major league clubs. Cincinnati made him a good offer before signing Ned Hanlon. Murray preferred to remain in the Eastern league until last fall, when President Shetsline, of the Philadelphia club made him a flattering offer to succeed Hugh Duffy, and Murray accepted.

Chick Stahl, who succeeds his bosom friend and chum, Jimmy Collins, as manager of the Boston Americans, had some experience last fall as a manager. His work then led to his being offered the position for this year. He accepted only after it was definitely decided that Collins would be deposed. The two played together for ten years in the Boston National and American league teams. Stahl has announced that he will change the training tactics of the team. Everybody will have to work next spring, says the new manager. Collins is now at Hot Springs, Ark., getting in trim for the season.

The Nelson-Britt Fight. Everything in ring circles now points to a successful arrangement of a fight between Battling Nelson and Jimmy Britt to be held at Colma, Cal. Both Nelson and Joe Gans gave the word to Matchmaker Eddie Gracy of San Francisco to match them against Britt. Nelson has signified his willingness to fight first if suitable terms can be agreed upon. Britt has been looking for a fight with one of the lightweight leaders for some time, so the negotiations should be speedily settled.

Coughlan to Coach Cornell. Dan Coughlan has been elected by the Cornell Athletic council coach of the baseball team for the coming season. He succeeds Glen Warner, who has gone to Carlisle.

Coughlan played with the Louisville and Washington teams and later was in the Pennsylvania league. He coached the University of Pennsylvania nine two years ago and last year was with Lehigh university.

Juliet D. Juliet D., the dam of Irish, 2:05 1/4, is in foal to Judge Dillon, a son of Sidney Dillon.

Zombro Gives Speed. Zombro, 2:11, by McKinney, 2:11 1/4, put six new performers in the list last year.

WOMAN'S RIGHTS.

The Dignity and Sacredness of Motherhood.

Think of the greatest man who has ever lived upon this earth, and then think of him as he lay, an infant, in his mother's arms. Does it seem possible that he should have grown, become great in the world's estimate and perhaps had monuments erected to perpetuate his memory, and yet that the world should have forgotten even the name of the woman who bore him? The son's work is the mother's primarily and, therefore, the recognition of the dignity and tender sacredness of motherhood should no longer be delayed. It is high time that this country's greatest treasures—THE WOMEN WHO HAVE CONTRIBUTED LARGELY TO MAKE IT WHAT IT IS—should be recognized.

Why should not these good mothers be given the right to vote and have a voice in our government—a right that is accorded to some of the most ignorant, most insignificant and vilest of men?

It has been well said that "for every monument to a great man there should be a monument to his mother and the mother's monument should be built first."

But it is not so much the purpose of this brief article to advocate the just rights and privileges due to the women of this country, although it has afforded the writer great pleasure to pen the foregoing brief tribute to their worth and just deserts, as it is to call attention to the fact that when broken down in health and strength by overwork, the too frequent bearing of children, the never ending toil, worry and care of the household, or by whatever may overtax the strength and delicacy of her sensitive system, there is one, tried and proven, safe remedy upon which she may rely to regain health, strength and the power to fully enjoy life.

That remedy is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—a remedy made wholly from the roots of native forest plants which have been proven to be most efficacious, reliable and safe in the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses, periodic pains, irregularities, wasting and weakening catarrhal, pelvic drains and kindred ailments. It is a remedy, the makers of which print its formula on every bottle wrapper and attest its completeness and correctness under oath; a remedy devised and adapted to woman's delicate constitution by an educated physician—an experienced specialist in woman's diseases; a remedy, every ingredient of which has received the written endorsement of the most eminent medical writers of all the several schools of practice for the cure of woman's peculiar diseases; a remedy which has more bona-fide cures to its credit than any other sold by druggists for woman's special requirements; a remedy which contains no alcohol in its composition.

Delicate, weak, nervous women should especially shun the use of alcoholic medicines which, from their stimulating and exhilarating effects may seem for a time, to do good, but which, from the inevitable effects of the alcohol in shrinking up the red corpuscles of the blood, are sure to do great and lasting harm in the long run. Besides they beget a craving for stimulants which is most deplorable. "Favorite Prescription" is the one remedy for woman's ills which contains no alcohol.

Only invigorating and nerve strengthening effects can follow the use of this famous medicine for women. It can not possibly do harm in any state or condition of the system. If a woman is bearing down, or dragging pains, low down in the abdomen, or pelvis, backache, frequent

No woman suffering from any of the above symptoms can afford to accept any secret nostrum or medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for a medicine like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which is of known composition and has a record of over forty years of cures and sells more largely to-day than ever before. Its makers withhold no secrets from their patients, believing open publicity to be the very best guaranty of merit.

Dr. Pierce invites all suffering women to consult him by letter free of charge. All letters of consultation are held as strictly private and are returned in plain, sealed envelopes. Address: Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y.

NEED ENCOURAGEMENT

In this day and age of bitter and scathing attacks upon the railroads and magnates who control them it is refreshing to find one of the great financial and thinking journals of the country, defending them. The Wall Street Journal, authority on matters of finance, has the following to say regarding the encouragement of railroads and railroad enterprises:

"This is the hour of need to the country's railroads. Railroads are always among the greatest consumers, but now, in the hour of trial by public criticism, they need the best that there is to be given them of material and moral encouragement.

"First of all the railroads need coal to keep the fires going under their boilers. Some railroads beyond the Mississippi river, and especially in the mountain section of the transcontinental lines, seem hard pressed for the want of fuel. Apparently with all the advantage which has been taken of the supply of petroleum for locomotive fuel there is still a marked shortage from which traffic is suffering. The importation of coal for the Harriman lines from Australia at a cost of ten dollars a ton delivered to the Australian seaboard indicates the expense to which these lines are put to supply their urgent needs.

"2. Railroads need cars and engines.

"Car shortage has prevailed for no less than three years in some parts of the country, and is now the case in most parts. Car building companies have not been able to keep up with the demand, even though the steel car industry, which a few years ago had no existence, turned out little short of 100,000 cars in the past year. Railroads need engines. The growth of the average carload has made it necessary to replace the engines of small power by those of greater capacity, so that more work has been put upon engines than ever before. With increased duty comes the enlarging demand for increased numbers, and the railroads now seem to be far behind the needed supply.

"3. Railroads need more trackage.

"Many of them are operating a single track, where they should have double tracks. For want of double tracks they are losing time in putting their trains through by waiting on sidings and in other ways trying to make a single track do double duty. This results in demoralization of traffic and is discouraging to those who are trying to accomplish something with inadequate facilities at their disposal.

"4. The railroads need money.

"They have been fairly considerate with stockholders in the disbursements of dividends covering a period of half a dozen years at least, with increasing liberality towards the end of last year. But dividends and developments are struggling for the use of the surplus. Yet it is not a matter of choice among the railroads as to whether they will improve or not. If one road inaugurates extensive improvements, the others in self defense are, as a rule, required to follow suit to meet the demands of larger and more fundamental sense, competition. For competition, in its between systems and territory and freight centers is not by any means wanting in the present organization of railway traffic.

"5. Finally the railroads need mercy.

"They have been hammered and hammered by their critics from all directions and for so long that the time for a little of the sense of human appreciation of their problem and their predicaments is really overdue. The railroads have accomplished wonders in overcoming difficulties in the economic development of the country. They have been wasteful in some of their methods. They have been arbitrary in many of their dealings with the public. They have been rightfully called to account for their misdeeds. Criticism has its use, but it should not be carried to the point of abuse. The morale of the railroad service can be maintained at a high level only by the feeling that it is receiving and deserving a reasonable measure of public encouragement."

Railway men do not appreciate the cold weather at all. They can not quite see the necessity for it becoming so much like the north pole. The ice men, however, rejoice and in a few days more will have their summer's supply all in their houses and be ready for fever heat days as quick as they can come.

into widening and making a channel in the great Father of Waters or the Big Muddy. Poor Hepburn.

If Janesville is going to get ahead it should take care that the Janesville Sash & Door Company does not close its doors. The exodus of seventy-five skilled workmen from the city is something that should be stopped if possible.

The needs of the University have been made apparent by the cunning bills that have been presented to the legislature for consideration. The higher the education goes the more complicated the machinery needed to run it.

The days of the horse are no more numbered now than they were ten years ago. No matter how many different uses the automobile and flying machines are put to the horse will still remain essential to man.

Someone suggests that Thaw's lawyers make the plea that Harry Thaw was merely working for the extermination of the great White plague when he killed his man.

Promises made in the pre-primary campaign by candidates should be taken with a pinch of salt. Many an aspiring politician promises more than he can fulfill.

Forty years ago there was talk of a canal to connect the great lakes with the Mississippi for public use and again history repeats itself and there is more talk.

There is no talk of that Fourth of July celebration. Has the cold weather frozen it up or is the campaign of the candidates for city office making people forget?

Reports from different towns and cities of the county show that the wave of prosperity has not been stopped by the cold wave from the Northwest.

Janesville would enjoy a good first-class boom of the right sort. The town is ripe for it and if someone starts it watch everyone fall in line.

There is one bright legislator anywhere at Madison this winter. He wants a bill passed, doing away with the campaign cigar. Hurrah for him.

Pittsburg waits the result of Thaw's trial with much anxiety, as it would the announcement that another millionaire had gone wrong.

Western lovers of the Choo Choo cars are turning towards Chicago this week to see the latest things in the "devil wagons."

Men who have been considered jokes in politics before have been elected by rousing majorities. He laughs best who laughs last.

Harry Thaw's jury is now complete. The next question is, will District Attorney Jerome allow it to stay complete.

Hetty Green might give a few of her millions for some worthy cause and not be called a drone of the working world.

Pledging saloon men support and connivance at eluding the laws is politics, but is it good politics?

Andrew Carnegie still has a few thousands to give to deserving communities that need libraries.

Electrocuting on cold days is something more than a pleasure. It is a real hardship.

Four Rocks, they call the Wisconsin legislature. Good firm Rocks too.

Even Chicago is conscience-stricken over the scarlet fever epidemic.

PRESS COMMENT.

While They Roast Him at Home. Beloit Free Press: The "boy mayor" of Milwaukee is "doing" the big cities, telling the grown-ups how to run their municipalities.

A Big Appropriation. Milwaukee Sentinel: Sir Wilfrid Laurier claims that "the twentieth century is Canada's." And what is Rhode Island going to say about that?

When Pitchfork Ben Sidestepped. Chicago Tribune: Senator Tillman will hesitate before taking up the cudgels for Aunt Carrie Nation, who was denied admission to the White house a day or two ago.

Same Old Insect. Milwaukee Journal: Senator Raynor sees a dictator in the president. That "bug" once got Charles A. Dana and the New York Sun when Grant was president.

Dreams of Crime—Criminal Dreaming. Ashland Press: The boy bandit dream of killing a man. The boy operator kills forty while he sleeps, and when he awakes they are still exceedingly dead.

Motives Subject to Suspicion. Bryan's Commoner: The lower house of the Colorado legislature has passed an anti-cartoon bill. Men who object to cartoons usually have a reason which they do not care to make public.

Only One at Large. Exchange: Washington's birthday will be signaled in Chicago by a visit, with oratorical attachments, from Grover Cleveland, the only living ex-president of the United States now in captivity.

Hey! Stop It! Eldorado Independent: Assemblyman Cleary has introduced a bill at Madison intended to do away with the crowds around the circus ticket wagon and within the menagerie tent. Another paternalistic encroachment upon the guild of pickpockets.

Failed to Frighten Bailey. Paris (Ill.) Daily Beacon: Now they've dug up "naosaurus," the monster fin-backed armored boat lizard, with a hundred teeth set in a jaw curved like a bread knife who died 30,000,000 years ago in Texas. Well, what of it? Senator Bailey is still doing business at the old stand.

A Valuable Antidote. Waukegan Sun: The odor of cabbage, onions and many other vegetables while being cooked is offensive to most persons, but it can be destroyed by letting the stove get red hot, taking one of father's rubbers and permitting it to stand on the stove until it melts up some.

Senator Noble's Bill. Eau Claire Telegram: Announcement of the bill to be introduced by Senator Noble in the Wisconsin legislature providing for change by any city from the council to the commission form of government is attracting a good deal of attention. The proposition is one worthy of careful consideration.

Non-Decisive Grass. Neenah Times: An exchange states that a cow was struck by a Chicago & Northwestern express engine at Little Chute yesterday and hurled high in the air, but that the "cow" landed on her feet and went on nibbling grass as though nothing had happened. Eating grass. Oh, yes. Pass it along!

Capital Seemingly Almost Eager. Marinette Eagle-Star: Marinette city and Marinette county people have hopes that some time next summer or in the coming year that the plan to build an interurban from the city to the county towns will materialize, as the project meets with favor on all hands. All that is needed is to make a start and get the capital that is waiting to be employed.

Too Much for the Dyspeptic. Atchison (Kan.) Globe: A dyspeptic Atchison man went into a restaurant the other day and ordered fried catfish. "Fried cat," bawled the waiter to the cook. Instantly the weak stomach rebelled. "Cancel that order," the customer said, "and give me an order of country sausage." "Sidetrack the cat and make it dog," yelled the waiter, and he is wondering why the man grabbed his hat and left.

Magazine Hero's Pill Propensity. Quincy (Ill.) Daily Whig: If the anti-cigarette bill should pass the Illinois legislature the magazine writers may have to seek other states to lay the scenes of their stories. Did you ever notice that in magazine life the hero must always pause to open his cigarette case and get down to nicotine breathing before he can express himself to the object of his affections?

Finds the "Show" Good. Rock Island News: The second act of the Thaw show begins with a unique description of the number of ruffles on Evelyn Nesbit's afternoon dress and concludes with the same light overcoat, thrown across the same arm of Harry K. Thaw in the same way as it was observed in the first act. The show is real good, barring the monotony of it.

TITLES TO ARCTIC LANDS.

Lands Hitherto Unknown Discovered and Named by Explorers.

The voyage of the Canadian government cruiser Arctic to the far north suggests for consideration the question of the ownership of some far northern lands. For many years explorers of various nationalities—British, American, Scandinavian and others—have ventured into the frozen wilderness lying between the Dominion of Canada and the north pole, and have there discovered lands hitherto unknown and have named them and planted flags upon them. There has been much international rivalry in the work of elaborating the Arctic map and of pushing on toward the pole.

But there has been little thought in the minds of the adventurers or in that of the public of the delimitation of international boundaries in the realms of paleocrycistic ice and eternal snow. But now the Canadian government brings that thought to mind in the intimation that the Dominion extends clear to the north pole and that all the lands which have been discovered and explored in those regions, no matter by whom, are under the British flag.

Academically the question is somewhat complicated and might form the subject of interminable argument. There are those who hold that discovery and exploration give title to new lands, while others insist that title is not perfected without actual occupation and permanent settlement. But how if the lands in question are not fit for or susceptible of settlement?

NEW IDEA FOR INVENTORS.

Something the World Needs and Would Pay Well For.

"Inventors would get untold gobs of free advertising if they would give to their inventions names ryming with some one or other of our 5,000 rhymeless words," an editor said.

"Take the word 'silver.' It has no rhyme. It is a stumbling block to every poet. The poet uses it at a line's end and then has to destroy the line because there is no rhyme for it. Suppose, as he sought frantically, an invention called the 'silver' appeared. Then, in order not to lose his line, the poet would drag in the new invention, thus giving it an 'ad' worth $5 to $10, an ad like this:

"The moonlit sea, a sea of silver, As perfect as a perfect diver." "Do you catch the idea?" Yet our inventors exercise their best talent, call a new aeroplane a "wolf" to rhyme with "colf," a new soundless typewriter a "gorange" to rhyme with "orange," a home ice-making machine a "kulf" to rhyme with gulf, and so on."

Alligator's Affection. It seems that, if you only begin early enough, it is possible to tame even the fiercest animals. A baby alligator, caught in a swamp, was taken to the home of its captor in New York, and in the course of time it would follow him about like a dog. What was even more curious was that it and the cat became great chums. When pussy slept before the fire the alligator used to lay its head on the cat and go to sleep, too. The only creature that excited the alligator was a fox, chained in a yard. It did not try to bite the fox, but lashed it with its tail. Once, had the chain not broken, poor Reynard would have been beaten to death. The alligator was fed on raw flesh and milk, of which it was very fond. When the weather was cold it was kept in a box with wool in it. One frosty night the wool had been forgotten, and next morning the alligator was found dead.

President Ob' What?

President Roosevelt likes to leave the White house at times and make informal calls on his friends. One night last winter he strolled up to Attorney General Moody's house and rang the bell.

The negro butler came to the door. He peered out suspiciously and asked: "What you-all want?"

"I should like to see Mr. Moody."

"Mr. Moody ain't in to nobody."

"Oh, I guess he will see me. Tell him the president is here."

"The president?" said the butler, suspiciously.

"Yes, the president."

The butler, pulled the door almost shut. He looked at Mr. Roosevelt's slouch hat with disdainful eye and inquired scornfully: "President ob what?"—Saturday Evening Post.

Black Teeth and Fidelity. "The Japs are a fine race," said the sailor, "but there's one thing about them I don't like. The married women all blacken their teeth with a paste made out of sweet oil and soot."

"When a young, married woman gives you a smile, instead of being ravished with a glimpse as of snow on roses—pearly teeth gleaming between red lips—you look into a black hole. You frown. You turn away in disgust."

"The idea is that the married women's black teeth, making them unattractive, keeps them faithful to their husbands. Doesn't it have the opposite effect on the husbands, though? Perhaps, eh?"

Brave Man. "Henry," whispered Mrs. Subbubs, shaking her sleepy husband. "I'm sure there are burglars downstairs."

"You go down and see, Mary," said he. "They wouldn't dare strike a woman."

Nebraska Pioneer Is Dead. Kearney, Neb., Feb. 4.—Moses H. Sydenham, one of Nebraska's earliest pioneers, died suddenly here Sunday of heart failure.

THIS DAY COLDEST OF PRESENT WINTER

Seven Below Zero on Registered Thermometer—Other Instruments Showed Much Colder.

Today was the coldest day so far this winter. The United States registered thermometer at the Heimstreet's drug store showed 7 degrees below zero for the lowest temperature and 5 above for the highest. The lowest prior to yesterday was 4 below, and the lowest yesterday was six. At seven o'clock this morning it was 4 below and at three in the afternoon it was only 2 above. Many thermometers recorded much colder weather than the official mark and reliable instruments in exposed places were probably correct when they showed 10 and 12 below. A telephone message from Orfordville reported 12 below there this morning. As a result of the extreme cold water pipes in many homes and mercantile and manufacturing buildings were frozen, a condition that had not existed for several winters.

MORTUARY MENTION.

Frank Nels Nelson. The burial rites of Frank Nels Nelson held at the Baptist church at 2:30 P. M. yesterday were largely attended. His Sunday school class and his high school classmates, the graduates of 1907, were seated in a body. The pall bearers were: Fred Wilkerson, LeRoy Eller, Llewellyn Cannon, Arthur Clark, Floyd Davis and Frank Chase. The flowers were beautiful. The wreath sent by the Marzluft Shoe Co. employees was of especial beauty. A quartet consisting of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Taylor, Mrs. Chas. Kniff and E. E. Van Pool rendered the touching and appropriate song service. Rev. R. M. Vaughan preached from the text found in Heb. 11: 4. "He being dead yet speaketh." He said: "Frank Nelson is dead but he speaks to all on earth. He speaks of the service of faith. His was an earnest Christian life, glad to live but ready when the summons came to die."

Patrick Tobin. All that is mortal of the late Patrick Tobin of Leyden was laid at rest in Mount Olivet cemetery yesterday afternoon.

LEG, CRUSHED BY CAR WHEELS, MAY NOT BE REMOVED

Henry Schmidt of Milwaukee, a St. Paul Road brakeman, injured at Milton Yesterday—Brought Here.

Henry Schmidt of Milwaukee is lying at the Palmer Memorial hospital here with his left leg badly crushed. He is a brakeman in the employ of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway company, running on the Prairie du Chien division, and was the victim of an accident at Milton at about five o'clock yesterday morning. While switching there he fell under the train and car wheels passed over the limb. He was immediately brought to Janesville and arrived at the hospital at half-past six o'clock. Dr. J. F. Pember had been summoned and cared for the man. He found a compound comminuted fracture of the leg, nearly two-thirds of the distance between the ankle and the knee being crushed. The broken bones protruded through the flesh and ten pieces were removed. One was two and a half inches in length. Despite this condition the circulation of blood remained good and the physician hopes to save the leg, though it will be short. Schmidt is twenty-four years old and single.

FRANCES RYAN TO LEAVE INSTITUTE

Will Complete Duties There at End of Week—Was in Charge of School.

For Blind Last Summer.

Needing a rest to prevent a general breakdown in health Miss Frances Ryan has resigned from the list of employees at the State School for the Blind and will complete her duties there this week. She has been stenographer and private secretary to the superintendent for three years and a half and her record is a bright one. Last summer after Clyde R. Showalter had completed his term as superintendent and before Harry Cleary had been appointed to the vacancy Miss Ryan was in entire charge of the institute for a period of six weeks. This was in the months of July and August. Miss Clara Davis of Platteville has come to fill Miss Ryan's place and is serving under her this week.

WHAT WILL COUNCIL DO ABOUT ORDERS?

Mayor Hutchinson Has Definitely Decided to Withhold His Signature.

—It is "up to" the Aldermen.

In addition to the regular routine business this evening the city council will be called upon to show its hand in the matter of the orders passed at a recent session, in the face of City Attorney Maxfield's unfavorable opinion, appropriating $10 each to Aldermen Watt, Buchholz, Meritt, and Sheridan, and $5 to Ald. Rudolph as compensation for their services in attending regular meetings. Mayor Hutchinson has not only refused to sign these orders but it is rumored that he will tonight set forth his reasons for withholding his signature and urge the City Fathers to direct an inquiry as to whether or not they are in duty bound to return the money previously received by them and if it shall be found that they are so bound, to act accordingly. What action the council will take remains to be seen. A fortnight ago there was talk of taking the matter into the courts for a test and it may possibly still be the determination of the majority to do so.

The SHAKER COMMUNITY NEARING ITS END

New York.—Up in the Berkshire Hills there is a vast estate, containing many thousands of acres, in one of the most beautiful regions of America, and which belongs to a small community of which the large majority must soon pass away. Seven miles this estate runs along the country roads. Spurs from the Berkshires cross it and lovely valleys lie between.

In one of these valleys clusters a group of houses which have slowly accumulated during a hundred years and more. Good houses they are, well built and large, filled with every convenience and comfort, and surrounded with trim gardens, shaded drives and deep fruited orchards. It looks like a little paradise in summer. The place would be suitable for a great charitable or educational institution, a sanitarium or summer boarder enterprise. There are many rich farms in the great estate. In the hands of those who know how to manage it the whole would form a holding of great value. As it is, the title rests in a community of about 80 persons, of which the majority must in the course of nature die within the next few years, and into which no new members are entering.

Who is going to become the final owner of the great Shaker property at Mount Lebanon, N. Y.? Which of the younger women of the community will be the last survivor of an organization formed more than a century ago; and what will she do with this vast, deserted place when by law it passes into her hands? For no new members are entering the Shaker community to remain permanently. The community is slowly but surely dying out.

Survivors Will Be Women.
The last survivors will undoubtedly be women. The great majority of the members are now women, about 65 out of the 80. The younger members are mostly in the fifties, although the remarkably youthful appearance of all Shaker women makes them look in many cases at least 15 years younger. The great majority of all the members are aged women, ranging from the seventies well along toward the nineties.

Eldress Harriet Bullard, who is at the head of all the Shakers in the United States, is well over 80. So is Eldress Anna White, the head of the North family, the most distinguished family in Shakerdom. These old women are marvels of activity and achievement for their age, like all Shaker women. Yet they can hardly live many years longer; and considering the large number of them of about the same age there must within the next few years be a marked diminution of numbers.

How will the few who remain manage this great place, already too vast for the survivors? Miles of Shaker territory lie unoccupied and unproductive. One great house in the valley, with its big barns and outbuildings, stands vacant. Its family died out within a few years past and it is quietly falling to decay.

Nobody joins the Shakers now. People enter from time to time, stay a few weeks or months and then go away. The Shakers have taken children from time to time to raise and have raised them well. But when they were grown these children nearly always slipped quietly away into the big world outside.

Rich and Prosperous
Yet a hundred years ago that valley at Mount Lebanon was a busy hive of industry, inhabited by hundreds of hardy, thrifty New Englanders of a high type of character and intelligence. Indomitable workers, the proceeds of their toil put into a common treasury made the community rich, although the members possessed no individual property. The buildings and grounds to-day are full of comforts and improvements which have been added by the busy, skillful hands of one generation after another.

It would seem as if plenty of people, who live in neither comfort nor plenty outside, would be thankful to enter this peaceful retreat and know they were provided for for life, with no harder work than they would do anywhere. But they do not come. The Shakers are anxious to get new members. They do not want the sect to perish from the face of the earth. Its dwindling numbers are a matter of distress to them. It is for this reason that they have within recent years adopted a more liberal policy. In former years the world was never permitted to enter their gates except for strictly necessary business. Two years ago they took the unprecedented step of calling a peace convention, which attracted many distinguished speakers and visitors. They serve dinners through the pleasant weather now, and the automobile folk from Lenox and Stockbridge find these an agreeable goal. Last summer, for the first time in history, one of the families took summer boarders.

These activities have been profitable, but more than profit the Shakers her. Eldress Anna would read all letters she sent or received, and she would ask the elders' permission for every act of her life, as a child does its mother. At the end of six weeks she left to begin her struggle with poverty again, preferring that to prison life.

Mother Ann Lee, who founded the Shaker sect, was a remarkable woman, says the New York Press. Like most founders of religions the subliminal was on top in her, and she saw visions and dreamed dreams. Powers were claimed for her which correspond to what are known as clairvoyance and healing by suggestion nowadays. She had a career which shows her to have been a strong character, and probably had her followers lived the ordinary family life the sect would have been a flourishing church to-day, replenished in each generation with the children of the members.

Mother Ann had some very advanced ideas for her day. For instance, she believed in the absolute equality of man and woman, and Shakerdom has always been conducted on that basis. But democratic government was not known in her day, and she made the rule of her communities despotic, through an elder and eldress at the head of each family, appointing their own successors, and with no check on their authority.

Eldress Anna now holds the reins with a hand of iron in the North family. She is of the type of the born priestess. Her face is that of the ascetic and the devotee. She is able, conscientious and, profoundly religious, but she is an autocrat.

One Scandal in Community.
There was one scandal at Mount Lebanon once, just once, but it is still whispered with bated breath. One brother, now in his 60s, entered the community at 13, bringing $4,000 with him. With the flight of years he was made elder, being a most able and devoted member. A few years ago, after the brother had spent nearly 50 years in service of the community, a new sister entered. She was a stranger, young and fair, but most exemplary in her conduct and obedience.

EVENTS OF THE PRESENT WEEK

APPROPRIATION BILLS TO OCCUPY SENATE AND HOUSE.

MUCH DEBATE EXPECTED

Taking of Testimony on Brownsville Affair to Begin—Conference on Japanese School Question.

The time of both the senate and the house this week will be taken up with the consideration of appropriation bills. In the senate the Indian bill is now under consideration, while the house has the river and harbor bill under way. Several days will be required to dispose of each of these measures, and when they shall have been finally voted upon the senate will take up the army bill and the house the naval bills.

These four measures will practically monopolize the time of the two bodies, as there are many points in each of them over which there is wide difference of opinion. It is expected that the senate amendments to the Indian territory matters will develop debate concerning the administration of business in that territory, while the question of big battalions will be fought out in the house in connection with the consideration of the naval bill.

Progress of Thaw Case.
Proceedings in the trial of Harry K. Thaw have reached the stage where the actual taking of testimony will begin on Monday unless more of the jurors already selected are excused when the court resumes its session.

The taking of testimony concerning the conduct of the colored troops at Brownsville, Tex., which resulted in their dismissal by the president, is expected to begin before the senate committee on military affairs in Washington on Monday.

Conference on Japanese Matter.
A conference between President Roosevelt, Secretary Root and the San Francisco board of education, which Mayor Schmitz will attend, is expected to be held in Washington on Friday or Saturday to discuss the Japanese school question. It is understood that the president will endeavor to induce the board of education to rescind its action excluding the Japanese children from the schools.

The question whether or not the New York produce exchange shall increase its trading so as to include nearly all the stocks, dealt with in the curb market, is expected to be taken up by the exchange at a meeting on Thursday.

James Bryce, British ambassador to the United States is to be given a dinner by the Pilgrims of London at the Savoy February 6. The American ambassador, Whitelaw Reid, will propose the health of Mr. Bryce, and the speeches of the two ambassadors are expected to sound the keynote of the friendly relations existing between their respective countries.

VILATTE STIRS UP PARIS

OPENING OF APOSTOLIC CHURCH ALMOST CREATES RIOT.

Police Called to Subdue Militant Catholics, Who Interrupt and Abuse the Archbishop from America.

Paris, Feb. 4.—Only the presence of the police prevented a riot at the old Barnabite monastery, which has been rechristened the Church of the Holy Apostles, where the French apostolic Catholic church was inaugurated Sunday.

The announcement of the attempt to organize a schism had stirred up the militant Catholics, who organized a hostile reception with the intention of breaking up the services. Handbills were distributed containing the words of a popular air, describing Archbishop Vilatte, head of the Independent Catholic movement in America, as an American monkey, whom M. Briand, minister of public instruction and worship, desired to make a French pope.

Several thousand persons were outside the church and scores of others penetrated the already crowded edifice. Interruptions, commenced as soon as Father Roussin, the pastor of the church, began his sermon welcoming the approaching Catholic independence and the dawning of the day when "all the churches of Jesus Christ will unite in Christian charity."

When he thanked Archbishop Vilatte for aiding the French Catholics in establishing the first church, saying he was consecrated by the Patriarch of Antioch, the successor of St. Peter, a shout in the rear of the edifice, "he is excommunicated!" was the signal for a general tumult, and Father Roussin finally was compelled to ask that the police be summoned. About 50 persons were expelled from the church and quiet was practically maintained until Archbishop Vilatte appeared on the altar in the robe and mitre of an archbishop. Instantly the din began with redoubled force, almost drowning his words. Nevertheless, he calmly continued, saying he had been a missionary for 36 years, but no savage tribe had ever prevented him speaking, and concluding, "even to those who interrupt and revile me I say I will not excommunicate. I wish you no ill. God be with you, Amen."

A score or more of persons were then ejected before Archbishop Vilatte proceeded with the celebration of pontifical mass, in which he observed the Catholic rites. During the elevation of the Host, the militant Catholics, instead of kneeling, climbed into their chairs. Meantime the police had cleared the streets outside the church and there were no demonstrations as the congregation left.

Hotel Burns, One Man Dead.
Ashley, Mich., Feb. 4.—The Hotel Trimmer, recently completed, was destroyed by fire Sunday, and William Thoms, the bartender, was suffocated in his room. The loss is $10,000.

RHEUMATISM AN ACID BLOOD POISON

Rheumatism is an acid blood poison, and the causes that produce it are often silently accumulating in the system for years. Poor digestion, stomach troubles, weak kidneys, torpid liver, and a general inactive condition of the system leaves the refuse and waste matter, which should be carried off, to sour and form uric acid, which is absorbed into the blood. When the blood is in this acid-charged condition, it deposits the poisons and irritating particles with which it is loaded in the muscles, nerves, joints and bones. Then Rheumatism gets possession of the system, and life is made miserable by its pains, aches and discomforts. The changing of the weather, exposure to cold and dampness, etc., always increase the trouble, and so severe does the pain become that quick relief must be had. A good liniment or plaster is often helpful, but it should be remembered that relief from such treatment is only temporary, because the trouble is in the blood and cannot be removed by external applications. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism by ridding the blood of the cause. It goes down into the circulation and by invigorating and purifying the blood of the acid-poison and sending a stream of fresh, rich blood to all parts, relieves the pain, reduces the inflammation, and permanently cures this painful disease. S. S. S. is the only safe treatment for Rheumatism, because it does not contain a particle of mineral in any form to damage the system. ago; and what will she do with this vast, deserted place when by law it passes into her hands? For no new members are entering the Shaker community to remain permanently. The community is slowly but surely dying out.

Conservatism Triumphed.
This policy seemed good at first. During the summer of the peace convention seven new members entered the North family. By winter all were gone. The history of two of them is an example of the rest. Both were men in the prime of life; one an American who had been the financial editor of a big daily paper, the other a London merchant. Both belonged to that small but persistent percentage of the population to whom communism life is attractive. Otherwise there was nothing to take them to the place, for no Shaker receives any personal emolument. All goes into the common treasury.

These two men saw possibilities in the place. They advanced various plans for making it more profitable. They entered with enthusiasm into the idea of modernizing the whole organization, bringing it in touch with the present day world, getting in fresh blood and building up a strong, growing organization once more. They were allowed to do nothing. Everything they proposed was vetoed by those in authority, and they became conscious of an unspoken but acute jealousy.

Gradually they saw they were to be reduced to simply two pairs of hands, doing the manual tasks that were ordered, like little boys. Their brains were not wanted, and they had to take orders from men who were mentally their inferiors. Then they went away, and by winter the rest of the seven had followed them.

One Woman's Experience.
A young woman went to Mount Lebanon last summer, thinking, perhaps, she might join. She was a dreamer and an idealist. She had had a hard and poverty-stricken life for a few years, and she was penniless. The life attracted her; the work was congenial, she liked all the material conditions. But she found that she should become a member she would never again have a moment's privacy. Working or sleeping, another woman would be always with

DURUM WHEAT FOR THE ARID LANDS OF WEST

Tests in Utah Which Prove That it is an Admirable Grain for Dry Farming.

Of the different varieties of wheats recommended for the arid region, possibly as far as yield is concerned and ever for other qualities as soon as they become better known, the most promising varieties belong to the Durum group (Triticum durum). These are the hardest grained wheats grown, and from them is furnished the greater portion of the world's supply of macaroni wheat. Most of these wheats have been imported from Russia, and hence are very hardy and drought-resistant. They are always bearded and are usually grown as spring varieties. As a drought-resisting satisfactory. Only a few plants of the hardest varieties survived the first winter. Sufficient seed was saved from the surviving plants for the second year's trials, which gave better promise than the first trials. This year, as a result of five or six years' tests, two or three of the varieties yielded as high as 24 bushels per acre, and it looks as if a number of permanent varieties have been established. But according to a report on Durum wheat which recently appeared in the Vernal Express, a yield of 24 bushels will look small to some of the dry farmers of Utah, especially ant group of wheats, they are probably in the lead.

As stated above, the Durum wheats are very hard, and for this reason are difficult to mill, and hence very unpopular with the millers. It is the general idea also that they produce a very poor grade of flour, but in Russia, where the art of milling has reached a high state of perfection, this is not considered so, especially when a small percentage of soft wheat is mixed with them. There is an increasing demand through the world for these hard wheats, and if the farmers only decide to grow them the millers will undoubtedly equip their mills with machinery for handling them or else go out of the business.

Since the Durum wheats are usually grown from spring seeding, it is doubtful whether they will ever become a very popular variety where spring seeding is the most successful. There is a possibility, however, that these spring wheats can be made to grow as fall varieties. The Utah experiment station has undertaken to grow several of these varieties from fall seeding, and the trials are now to those who are growing the Durum wheats as spring varieties. The clipping reads as follows:

"County Clerk-elect J. C. Hacking has made an interesting experiment in dry farming during the past summer.

"This spring he sowed one bushel of Durum wheat, a dry land variety, on one acre of land, harrowing it only once after sowing it broadcast, and after it came up he harrowed it once more. This acre of wheat was given absolutely no irrigation. The wheat reached a height of several inches above Mr. Hacking's head, while irrigated wheat, the ordinary variety common in this valley, on land adjoining it, grew only half as high. The Durum wheat gave a yield of 45 bushels per acre, which was much in excess of the yield of the irrigated wheat."

Certainly Mr. H. is to be congratulated upon his excellent yield. Higher than a man's head and yielding 45 bushels per acre looks good to the writer. The farmers in that section of the country had better quit irrigating and go to raising Durum wheat on the dry lands of Utah.

SENATOR DRYDEN OUT OF THE RACE

WITHDRAWS HIS NAME AS CANDIDATE FOR REELECTION.

ON ADVICE OF DOCTORS

In Precarious Health Because of Long Strain — Statement by New Jersey Man's Private Secretary.

Washington, Feb. 4.—United States Senator John E. Dryden of New Jersey Sunday night authorized the announcement that he had withdrawn his name as a candidate for reelection to the United States senate.

This action was taken on the advice of the senator's physicians, who warned him of the danger to his health if he persisted in attending the public meeting arranged at his request to be held in Trenton Monday. It was Senator Dryden's intention to address the Republican members of the legislature and set forth the reasons, in his opinion, why he should be reelected to the senate.

Doctors Notify Republicans. Following the senator's decision to withdraw his name, his physicians, Drs. Edward J. Hill and Charles L. Hill, sent the following telegram to the Republican leaders in the New Jersey senate and house of assembly:

"The condition of Senator J. E. Dryden's health is such, on account of the long and severe strain under which he has been, that we, his physicians, have advised him that it is of imperative importance that he should not attend the proposed conference at Trenton on Monday."

Senator Dryden said he had hoped at this meeting to be able to convince the eight Republicans who refused to be bound by the action of the party caucus that their opposition to him is based upon mistaken grounds.

For the Sake of His Party.

In explaining the senator's withdrawal from the senatorial race his private secretary made the following statement:

"Senator Dryden concluded that a continuance of the deadlock would tend to injure the party and the state. Accordingly he formally announced his intention to withdraw. Senator Dryden is not dangerously ill. His condition is such however, that his physicians and family consider it of vital importance that he should be relieved at once of any further strain upon his strength and that complete rest from all cares is absolutely necessary."

The indications point to State Senator Frank O. Briggs as Mr. Dryden's successor. Mr. Briggs has authorized the statement that he is a candidate and it is said that he has received assurances of the support of a majority of the Republican members of the legislature.

GIRL'S DEATH A MYSTERY.

Peculiar Case of Miss Frances Martin, of Washington, Pa.

Washington, Pa., Feb. 4.—The body of Miss Frances Martin, 18 years old, was found in a room in the Forest building in North Main street early Sunday. Whether or not she was murdered has not yet been determined.

A young man named John Innes, with whom Miss Martin attended the Lyric theater Saturday night, has been arrested and is being held to await the action of the coroner. The body was discovered by John V. Cook, stage manager of the Lyric theater, which is across an alley from the Forest building, in which Cook lives. There are indications that the girl died in the Lyric theater building and that her body was then taken across a little bridge which connects the theater and Forest building.

A CENSUS OF HUMAN ANXIETIES

With a bent for "speculative mind-reading," you can make your next street car ride interesting.

Your fellow passengers—if they number a score or more—will represent every usual phase of mental anxiety and unrest.

One will be a man, worrying because a valued employee is to take a "better position" next week. Sitting opposite to him will be a man capable of filling the to-be vacant place, but who is struggling along in a heart-breaking position, not being exactly sure whether it is safe to "look for another job."

Here is a woman who has been "looking around" for a better apartment in which to live, but who has not found anything "within her means." Next to her sits the owner of an apartment that is to be vacated next week—just about the sort of apartment the lady is "looking for."

Here sits a woman who dreams day and night about owning an automobile. She bought some suburban lots a few years ago, but don't know "just how" to go about selling them, or she would soon own that automobile! The woman at her elbow is looking for a few more desirable real estate investments.

Here is a man who has two sets of Shakespeare, but needs a typewriting machine; but the man who just now "bumped into him," as the car turned the corner, never owned a Shakespeare, but has a couple of used type-writing machines he no longer needs.

And thus it runs, through the whole car-full. The man whose brow is clouded with an anxiety sits looking into the face of the man who could "come to his rescue"—IF HE ONLY KNEW. All day long people get into that car who need things which people getting off that same car could cheerfully furnish them.

Suppose that all of these people could be introduced to each other! Would it not simplify matters for them—and wipe away a great many human anxieties?

Well, every day some of these people are being introduced to some of the others through the want ads. And, as people come to be educated to the usefulness of these little ads., more and more of the "right people" will find each other!

California Dairyman's Novel Milk Outfit

The Pacific Dairy Review prints the picture which we reproduce. A California dairyman has hitched a Jersey heifer to a wagon on which is built a large case like a cream can. Imagine the effect of such an outfit driven through the average town! Dealers in "certified milk" could use some appropriate vehicle, such as a white bottle. Such things are often used with good effect by other dealers, but milkmen seem to be shy of such display.

The Veal Calf.—Calves should not be used for veal before they are four weeks old, and six weeks is better. For really good veal, the calf should have lived at least ten weeks. Many states have passed laws regulating the slaughter of calves for veal. Some have placed six weeks as the limit of age and others have made it as low as four. Below four weeks the flesh is very soft and sometimes slimy. Such flesh is for some reason quite indigestible, and it is on this score that the state authorities have passed laws under a certain age.
